Memorial Exercises.

A vast concourse of people attended the memorial exercises of the Odd Fellows at Elmwood and Cedar Grove cemeteries yesterday afternoon. The members of the order were out in large numbers. The occasion was a most impressive one. The programme as published Sunday morning was carried out in the main, the most striking feature being an address of great merit by Mr. Hill Montague, of Richmond, Grand Sire of the order. The music furnished by the Seaboard Air Line Band was exceptionally fine and highly appreciated. members of the order were out in

NEW COUNCILS MEET.

All Nominees of Recent Caucus Elected Yesterday Afternoon.

ting "No"-Captain Old Elected to Suc-

sion yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock and elected the nominees of the Councilmanic caucus held on the night of the 14th of last month.

Two vacancies in the Councils-one in the Common and one in the Select branch-were also filled.

President East, of the Common Coun-cil, named the committees from this branch, but President Greenwood, of the Select branch, was not ready to announce his committee appointments.

announce his committee appointments. President Greenwood was chosen to preside over the joint session. Mr. Steed acted as clerk.

The two Council bodies also met in separate session and elected the presiding officers. Mr. East was elected president of the Common branch, and Mr. Greenwood was again chosen to preside over the Selectmen. Mr. H. N. Poulson, who has efficiently served as clerk of the Select Council for the past four years, was re-elected to that position.

OFFICIALS ELECTED.

OFFICIALS ELECTED.

In joint session all the nominees of the recent caucus were elected in the order as given below. All the elections were unanimous with the exception of that of Messrs. A. P. Thom and John N. Vaughan as Police Commissioners. When these names were reached, Mr. T. S. Southgate, one of the Sixth Ward Councilmen, rose and said he desired to be recorded as voting "no." He did not give any explanation of his vote, and later when asked by a Virginian-Pilot reporter if he cared to say for publication why he voted in the negative, he replied that he had nothing to say.

Mr. Southgate, it will be remembered, was not admitted to the recent caucus on the grounds that he was not elected on the regular Democratic ticket. He was on the ticket put out by the City League for Good Government.

River Yields Up Ghastly Victims of Saturday Night's Collision.

MANY BODIES FOUND.

of Saturday Night's Collision.

Ten Others Are Yet Reported Missing—Bodies All Rose Nearly at Same Time—Names of Some of the Missing—Ghastly Sight at City Morgue.

Eleven human bodies, the victims of Saturday night's marine disaster, came to the surface in the Norfolk harbor late yesterday afternoon. This does not represent, it is feared, the sum total of the horrors of the collision between the steamer Essex and the Old Dominion barge No. 6, for there are yet about ten missing.

All the bodies are those of colored persons who were on board the barge when it was rammed by the Essex and partially sunk. The condition of some of the bodies is such that they possibly cannot be recognized.

The city morgue, where nine of the recovered bodies lay last night, was a ghastly place. So small is the morgue that it was crowded with human remains.

The finding of bodies began yesterday afternoon about 6 o'clock, and at intervals the ghastly sight of a lifeless body floating on the waves was seen. The last body was recovered about sundown.

This morning other bodies will probably be recovered, as the drowned have been in the water long enough to float, as shown by the ghastly yielding of the waves yesterday afternoon late. DRAGGED FOR RODIES.

DRAGGED FOR BODIES.

DRAGGED FOR BODIES.

Nearly all day Sunday and yesterday the river between Atlantic City and Pinner's Point was dragged for the supposed victims of Saturday night's collision. The tugs Commodore Duryea and Sue did this work, but the efforts were fruitless. The dragging was still going on when the bodies began to float.

It was reported Saturday night, as stated in Sunday's Virginian-Pilot, that there were 12 colored longshoremen unaccounted for after the wreck. These were among the 140 longshoremen on the barge when it was rammed. It was thought likely that some of the missing men at least would be accounted for Sunday, as the wreck occurred at night and there was much confusion.

NEW CITY OFFICIALS.

Several New Faces Seen in City Offices Yesterday.

Mr. Trehy Succeeds Mr. Royster as Clerk of Courts, Making But One Change in Appoints Mr. Victor Parks as Deputy.

Sunday was the beginning of the fiscal year, and the fiscal term, and yeserday there were several changes in the city officials.

Mr. L. Royster's duties as Clerk

the Courts ended practically Saturday afternoon at 6 o'clock. Mr. James V. Trehy, his successor, took charge of the Clerks office yesterday morning. He made one change in the office. One other change may be made later on.
Mr. Joseph Hennelly succeeds Mr. Wills
as deputy clerk of the Corporation Court. Mr. Wills will remain in the office as a clerk for some time yet. Mr.
Junius A. Coleman retains his old place, as does Mr. Bruce, the deed clerk. Miss Griffin will also remain, it is thought.

cierk. Miss Griffin will also remain, it is thought.

Mr. Willfam L. Eaker, who succeeded Mr. James T. Reld as City Colicetor, looked very natural in that office yesterday. He has filled it before. He has appointed his former deputy, Mr. Victor Parks, to that position again. Mr. W. H. Venable became Commonwealth's Attorney in earnest yesterday, succeeding Mr. James F. Duncan. Mr. Venable was in the Corporation Court during the morning when Judge Hanckel set several criminal cases for trial. The jury will be called Friday, when the old case of Horatio E. Solomon, colored, charged with the murder of Charlie Small, also colored, is set for trial. This case has been postponed a number of times for various reasons.
